Client Feedback

The client saw the final prototype when it was almost done, and told us that she believed it looked good. She told us she would like more texture on the chest plate, so we used the bumpy side of the foam for this effect. Additionally, she informed us that she approved of the asymmetrical look we did for the shoulders.

User Feedback

To find user feedback, we found a young person at the university to test out the wearability of our prototype. We chose a young male to be our test user because we believe that in reality, at the Gala it would be a young man using our wearable.

The User tested out the prototype by wearing it and moving around in it, and his comments were as follows:

- "It's a bit big for me, but otherwise it fits well."
- "It's comfortable and not heavy at all to wear. I could see myself wearing this for a few hours at the Gala."
- "The heartrate sensor is pretty accurate when on my earlobe."
