

Low/Medium fidelity prototype made to signify the functionality of a sound-activated switch sending a signal.

Low/Medium fidelity prototype made to test the functionality of a voice recognition module to activate a switch

High fidelity prototype made to represent and test the full functionality of a voice-activated night call bell